2016 Annual Report

Advancing health care through research.

Your Profession
Your Foundation
Your Future
Charles was an icon and visionary in his field. He was heralded as a pioneer for his achievements while serving as the American Physical Therapy Association’s president and first chairman of the Foundation for Physical Therapy. But, Charles was more than just a colleague. He was a role model, mentor, and friend.

Charles spent a great deal of his life advocating for the advancement of the practice of physical therapy and promoting innovative research through the Foundation. He would state on numerous occasions how “the work of the Foundation for Physical Therapy is central to the future of the profession.”

Through his contributions from the Magistro Family Foundation, Charles, along with his wife Noel and family, established the Magistro Family Endowment Fund in 2005. This fund was created to support the investigation of innovative therapeutic interventions within the practice of rehabilitation and has since provided 10 physical therapist researchers each with $40,000 – $80,000 research grants. The Fund currently exceeds $2 million and will continue to provide vital grant funding well into the future.

Though we no longer have Charles with us, his memory will forever remain. He will always be remembered as the man who gave selflessly to his family and profession, was unrelenting in his passion to serve others, and determined to help the upcoming generation of physical therapists reach their potential. He truly was a man on a mission to touch the lives of countless people.

Since its establishment in 1979, the Foundation for Physical Therapy has made it its mission-as the sole national, independent nonprofit organization-to create a more mobile future by developing the next generation of physical therapy researchers. For the past 37 years, it has been dedicated to changing healthcare by providing society with proven research intended to optimize physical functioning through its support for scientifically based and clinically relevant physical therapy research and doctoral scholarships and fellowships.

The Foundation has awarded more than 17 million dollars to over 590 researchers.
Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Last year was a fiscally groundbreaking year at the Foundation for Physical Therapy, thanks to all of you. And hopefully, the first of many.

I am deeply humbled, honored, and privileged to be assuming the role of president, and I am sincerely grateful to my predecessor, Barbara Connolly, not only for her exceptional leadership over the past 2 years, but also for her countless contributions in moving this organization forward.

With your unyielding support, the Foundation is steadily growing and continues to make a positive impact on health care. Despite the challenges we’ve faced ever since our founding, our mission and the conviction that together we can change the face of healthcare, has only made us stronger. For the first time in the Foundation’s 37 year history, we have distributed over $1 million in funding to deserving researchers, and we are on target to do so again this fiscal year.

With your help, our researchers continue performing outstanding physical therapy research that paves the way towards effective practice. This will enable us to not only learn more about physical disabilities and diseases, but also eventually introduce new data to guide effective therapy and introduce targeted preventive and/or therapeutic interventions.

I am honored to have this opportunity to lead the Foundation as it continues to grow and advance the field of physical therapy, by funding and publicizing physical therapy research. There is still much more that needs to be done - more that we can all do to advance our profession.

The dream of not only improving the field of physical therapy through research but also enhancing the quality of life for millions is attainable, but only if we share in the responsibility. I have the utmost confidence in the Foundation and its leadership, but most of all, I have confidence in you.
New Investigator Fellowship Training Initiative

“Preventive Physical Therapy for People with Parkinson Disease.”

“This fellowship is giving me the opportunity to learn how we can remove barriers to preventive and maintenance physical therapy for patients with Parkinson disease, with the hope that we can facilitate wide-spread implementation in the future.”

CoHSTAR Update

Since its establishment in 2015, the Center on Health Services Research and Training (CoHSTAR) set out to build a health services infrastructure, expand the number of physical therapy health services/policy researchers, increase the quantity and quality of physical therapy health services/policy research, and build upon active and growing research programs at the 3 collaborating institutions: Brown University, Boston University, and the University of Pittsburgh.

CoHSTAR has successfully entered its second year, and although health services research is still new to many physical therapists, it continues to generate an enthusiastic following as people come to understand the importance of this work for the profession.

CoHSTAR has made much progress since entering its second year with 7 pilot studies underway or nearing completion, 4 faculty fellows, 1 postdoctoral fellow, 3 visiting scientists, and a successful Summer Institute. The structure is in place to support meaningful research in health services over the next 3 years, with the Foundation funding CoHSTAR at $500,000 annually.
Each year, the Foundation for Physical Therapy recognizes individuals and organizations that have demonstrated a strong commitment to supporting the Foundation and advancing physical therapy research. The 2016 recipients included:

Marilyn Moffat, PT, DPT, PhD, DSc (hon), GCS, CSCS, CEEAA, FAPTA - Spirit of Philanthropy Award: recognizing Foundation donors who have a proven record of exceptionally generous support of the Foundation and its mission to fund physical therapy research.

Dr. Moffat’s devotion to the Foundation is demonstrated by her generous personal contributions over the years, the establishment of the Marilyn Moffat Fund for Geriatric Research, and her commitment as a member of the Legacy Society. Dr. Moffat has served 2 terms as a member of the Foundation’s Board of Trustees (2004-2011). Currently, she serves on the Foundation’s Fundraising Committee and has been essential to the growth of the Foundation through her leadership of the President’s Sustaining Fund (PSF). Dr. Moffat has helped the Foundation raise more than $2 million in the 23-year history of the split raffle, spearheaded efforts for the 2007 capital campaign by serving as Leadership Gifts Chair, and assisted the Foundation in raising over $650,000 for the annual PSF since the program began in 2012.

Steven H. Tepper, PT, PhD, FAPTA - Charles M. Magistro Distinguished Service Award: honoring an individual for outstanding service and personal commitment toward promoting the Foundation’s goals.

Dr. Tepper has passionately advocated for and selflessly contributed to the Foundation for over 15 years. He was awarded a grant from the Foundation in 1987, and has since been committed to supporting the Foundation to help make funding opportunities available to other researchers. He received the first Innovation for Fundraising award in 2005 for his initiative and creativity in fundraising on behalf of the Foundation, traveling the country as a university professor, giving monthly lectures where he encourages students to donate to the Foundation while personally matching their donations.

DJO Global - Premier Partner in Research Award: honoring generous and long-standing contributors who have made a substantial difference by supporting the Foundation and its mission. In the past, DJO Global joined the Foundation as a Platinum-level Partner in Research in 2011 and donated over $95,000 in support of physical therapy research.
The Philanthropy Circle recognizes schools’ cumulative giving through participation in the Challenge. To be eligible to join, schools must participate in the Challenge for at least 10 years.

The financial health of the Foundation for Physical Therapy remains strong, with the Statement of Financial Position reflecting total assets of $16,659,374 as of the year ended December 31, 2016.

As we close the books on 2016, for the first time in the Foundation’s 37 year history we have awarded over $1 million in grants and scholarships. Investment income nearly topped $1 million for the first time in the Foundation’s history. The yield to date, a forward-looking earnings ratio, was 8.44% at the end of 2016.

Our investments in physical therapy research are significant and are only made possible by you, our donors. The backing of individuals, APTA, components of the association, and corporate and business owners contributed to the unprecedented level of funding achieved in 2016. This investment demonstrates the core mission of the Foundation—providing postdoctoral scholarships to physical therapists and supporting new investigators through our grants and fellowship programs.

The Foundation ended the year with strong unrestricted net revenue, which was 23% higher than budgeted, and expenses well managed, with total expenses coming in $137,000 under budget. The 2016 financial highlights that follow are derived from the Foundation’s December 31, 2016, audited financial statements by CliftonLarsonAllen, LLP. To view the Foundation’s audited financials, please visit our website.

Because of the generosity and vision of individual donors, 2 new endowment funds were created through realized planned gifts in 2016: the Bella J. May Scholarship Fund and the Mildred L. Wood Endowment Fund. APTA also generously transferred funds to establish the Viva J. Erickson Fund, and the association supported the Jayne Snyder Endowment Fund with an additional contribution. To learn how you can create a lasting legacy for the profession, I urge you to contact the Foundation’s CEO, Barbara Malm, at 800/875-1378.

As a trustee and donor, I am proud of the Foundation and its commitment to creating grant opportunities for new and established investigators and the continued commitment to expand the cadre of physical therapists embracing careers in research. Thank you for your continued generosity.
